The Girls You've Asked to See:

Top model Jackie Jones and Bond girl Janine Andrews

The girls you've asked to see

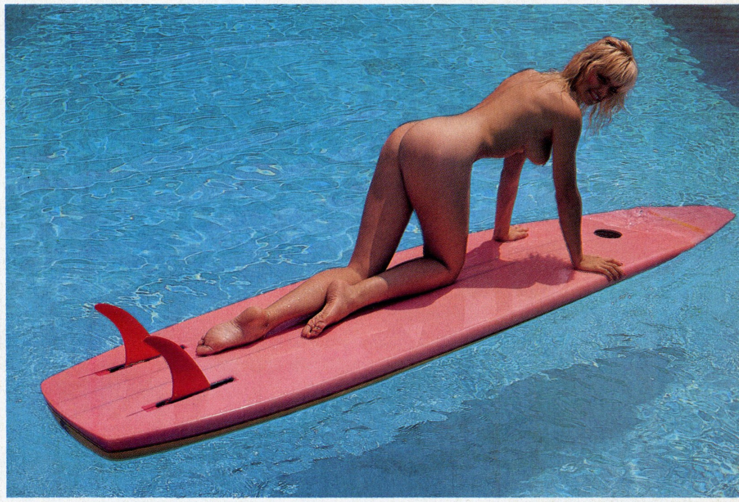
“Octopussy’ girl Janine Andrews

PHOTOGRAPHED BY MICHEL MOREAU

Mayfair always brings you the girls you want to see, and this month we proudly present sexy Janine Andrews, a Page Three star, and one of the beauties featured in the latest Bond thriller, Octopussy. Janine, who rejected a four-figure offer to appear in Playboy, is making her screen debut in the film, and plays one of Octopussy's private army of girls skilled in combat. Being six feet tall, this striking blonde certainly stands out amongst the other Bond birds.

Janine's voluptuous 34C-24-35 figure can also be seen dancing in the title sequence, along with Joni Flynn (Vol 18 No 7). She was one of the girls chosen for location shooting in India, and also flew down to Cannes to promote the film. Janine is now planning a trip to Hollywood in search of another film role, and hopes to be chosen to star alongside Burt Reynolds. But she insists that her ambitions do not centre on the movie world. 'I want to be a singer,' she said, 'that is my real ambition.' Janine has recorded a record for release in Japan where blondes are very popular, and where her successful modelling career will not hamper a changeover to the pop field. Meanwhile here in England, Janine is a firm favourite with Page Three fans, and can be found in The Sun calendar for 1983, where many readers spotted her, and wrote asking to see more of her in Mayfair.

Janine was brought up just outside Birmingham where she went to a comprehensive school. She worked in a local shoe shop on Saturdays before becoming a successful model, and moving down to London four years ago. Now she is one of the country's most sought-after models, spending much of her time abroad on assignments. You might recognise her from a recent Mercedes ad where she is pictured in a fur coat standing next to their new four-wheel-drive. She also appeared in the TV ad for Laker Holidays – she was the blonde floating across your screens on an airbed. And if your local is a Watney pub you'll see her on the calendar. Janine's hobbies include dancing, swimming, and cars – she buys a new one every year and currently drives a Fiat X19. By the way, if these pictures look somewhat familiar, it would be because some have appeared in Men Only, but for some curious reason they called her Tina and made up a false story.



You know how it is when you can't quite place a face from the past. But when a beautiful blonde grabbed me in the street I wasn't going to argue. She wanted to take up where we left off, wherever that was, so it seemed like my lucky day . . .

LONG TIME, NO SEE

Fiction by Barrie Rands

I never stood a chance!

She was upon me before I realised what was happening, her arms tied round my neck and her face pressed against mine. She smelt good and felt even better, but whilst her perfume seemed familiar, I couldn't put a name to the frame.

People were staring, amused no doubt by my obvious bewilderment. In fact the whole street seemed frozen into immobility, all attention on us. 'Oh, David,' she moaned. 'I can hardly believe it's you. After all this time.'

'Yes, incredible isn't it,' I gasped, struggling for air, my brain rifling back through the dog-eared file cards of my memory.

'You're still a louse, aren't you?' she said suddenly, pulling away sharply and permitting me my first clear view. 'After all that we meant to each other, you can't even remember my name!'

'You haven't changed,' I said, looking her up and down. 'It's just that it's been so long . . .'

'Zena.'

'Zena! Of course!' I punched the air in front of me, realisation dawning.

'You look older,' she remarked.

'I am, not to mention wiser.'

'Just as handsome, though.' I shrugged. I

Ah good, there you are, James . . .

THE LADY AND THE BUTLER

PHOTOGRAPHED BY MAURICE VANSON

One of the most appealing images in literature is that of the elegant lady and her obliging servant. It is a relationship that has been stimulating men's fantasies even before the days of Lady Chatterley's Lover. We felt it was time that Mayfair joined in, so we invited model Linzi Drew to play James the butler's mistress in this pictorial version of the old story. But with our sense of humour we couldn't resist adding a more light hearted ending.

Now, come along and give me a hand to undress, there's a darling . . .

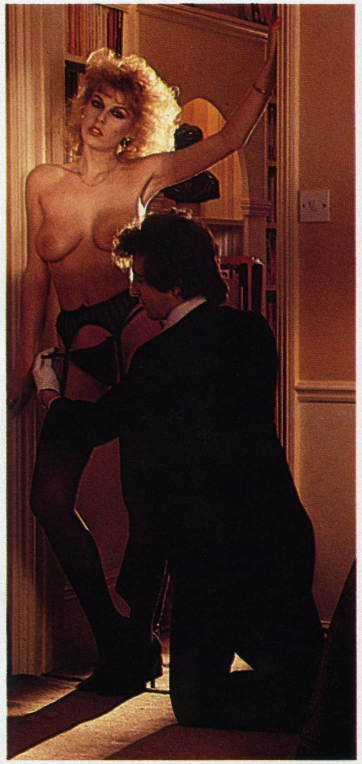
Thank you, James, my dress if you will . . .

That's it, now hang it up carefully . . .

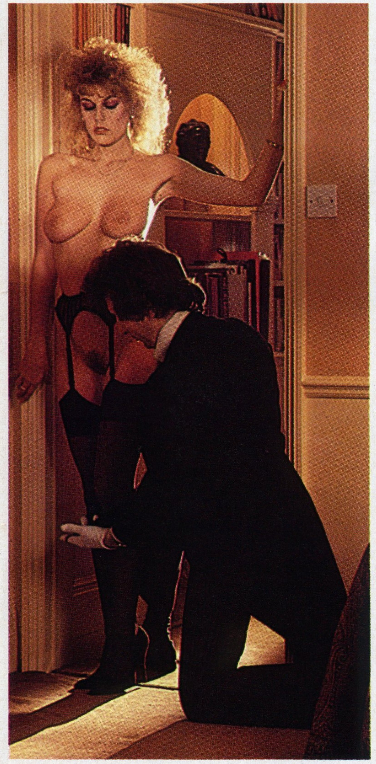
Ooh, James, that's better isn't it? Much more comfortable . . .

Now, just slip off my bra – oh, and pass me my champagne . . .

Mmm, I needed that, I was so hot. You look quite warm as well, James!



But you haven't finished yet, James, my knickers, if you wouldn't mind . . .



That's it, all the way down . . .

Now, my stockings, that's lovely . . .

And my suspender belt . . .

Oh, thank you, James, thank you. I really don't know what I'd do without you at times like these . . .

Yes, you really know how to treat me properly, James. Now tell me, James, do you ever fuck?

Oh, you do. Be a darling then and fuck off. That dishy young captain I fancy is due to arrive any minute.

Suki

PHOTOGRAPHED BY ED ALEXANDER

One might be led to believe that the good burghers of Eastbourne had taken leave of their senses when they claimed that McDonald's restaurants attracted the wrong type of people. Especially if you consider that 19-year-old Suki Holloway is a devotee of fast food, if not of Eastbourne. 'I grew up and went to school here,' says 35-22-34 Suki, 'and although it's a nice town, it's no place to be young in. Like Bournemouth, it's a geriatric town.' Suki, whose real name is Susan, is a secretary with a firm of south-coast solicitors, a job which she has held for two years now, travelling the twenty or so miles each way in her 1979 Fiat Strada. One ambition that Suki does harbour, however, concerns Eastbourne's most famous attraction – Beachy Head. 'I often drive up there and wander along the top, and I've been fascinated watching these guys on hang-gliders just drop off the edge. I'd love to try that, but I'm not sure that I've the courage.'

'I suppose what I really need is some guy to take me under his wing, if you see what I mean, and build up my confidence. I just think it would be fabulous to jump off the cliffs and fly out over the sea like a seagull. I often just lie back in the grass and watch these guys.' As for men, Suki prefers the more intellectual type for a relationship. 'Otherwise,' she says, 'after he's played three sets of tennis, free-fallen from a plane, swum the Channel, and told you about it, you'll have nothing left to talk about. But if I'm with a guy who's turned on by me, he'll have the same effect on me.'

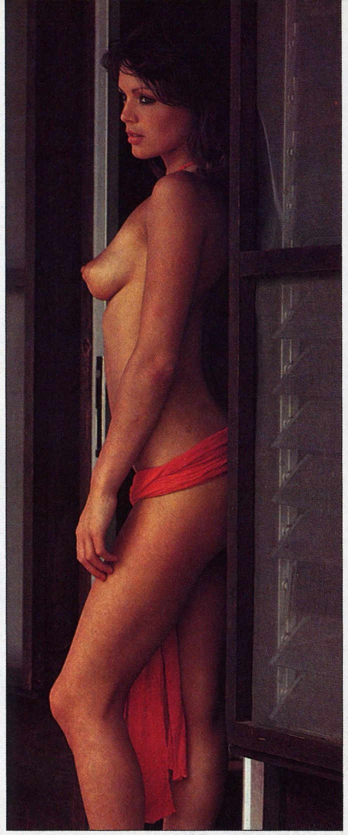
The girls you've asked to see

Top model
Jackie Jones

Every day letters come pouring in to the Mayfair office asking us to feature certain girls. And one of the models you've asked us for again and again is the sensational Jackie Jones. Both a Starbird and a Page Three girl, Jackie is now perhaps even better known through her work on TV commercials, and internationally well-known calendars. Jackie, 22-years-old with a delightful 34B–22–34 figure, is one of Britain's hardest working models with an appeal that has been recognised by everybody from lingerie firms to Lord Lichfield who has often snapped her.

Jackie was brought up in Kent, but a year ago she married, and moved to Hertfordshire where she now lives. Incidentally, if any of you have ever entertained hopes of marrying a top model but are afraid that you don't mix in the right circles, then Jackie might give you hope. Her young husband is a bricklayer – but then even Winston Churchill was known to pride himself on his ability to wield a trowel. However both of them would agree that their marriage got off to a bad start. Their honeymoon hotel in North Africa was so poor, they were forced to fly home a week early. But life's been rosier since.

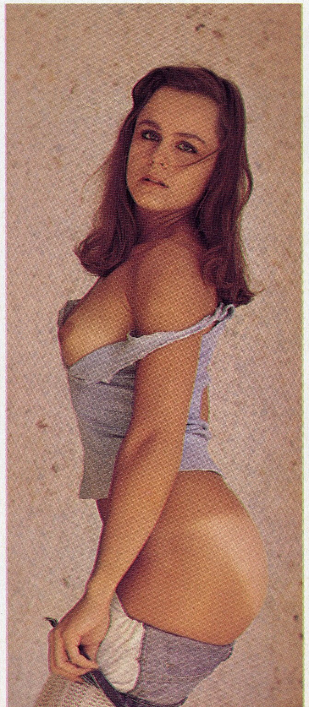
Not that Jackie gets to spend much time at home, she's far too busy working. Currently she can be seen in two TV commercials, one for Quick Dry deodorant, the other for Jojoba shampoo where she appears in nude silhouette. TV ads can be surprisingly arduous too, Jackie says. She once had to have 150 showers in one day when filming a soap commercial in Portugal. As well as brightening our TV screen, Jackie will also be cheering up our garages and pubs. She has just finished work on the 1984 calendars for Castrol and Tennants lager. A far cry from her first job working in a toy shop. Now she's the dolly in demand.



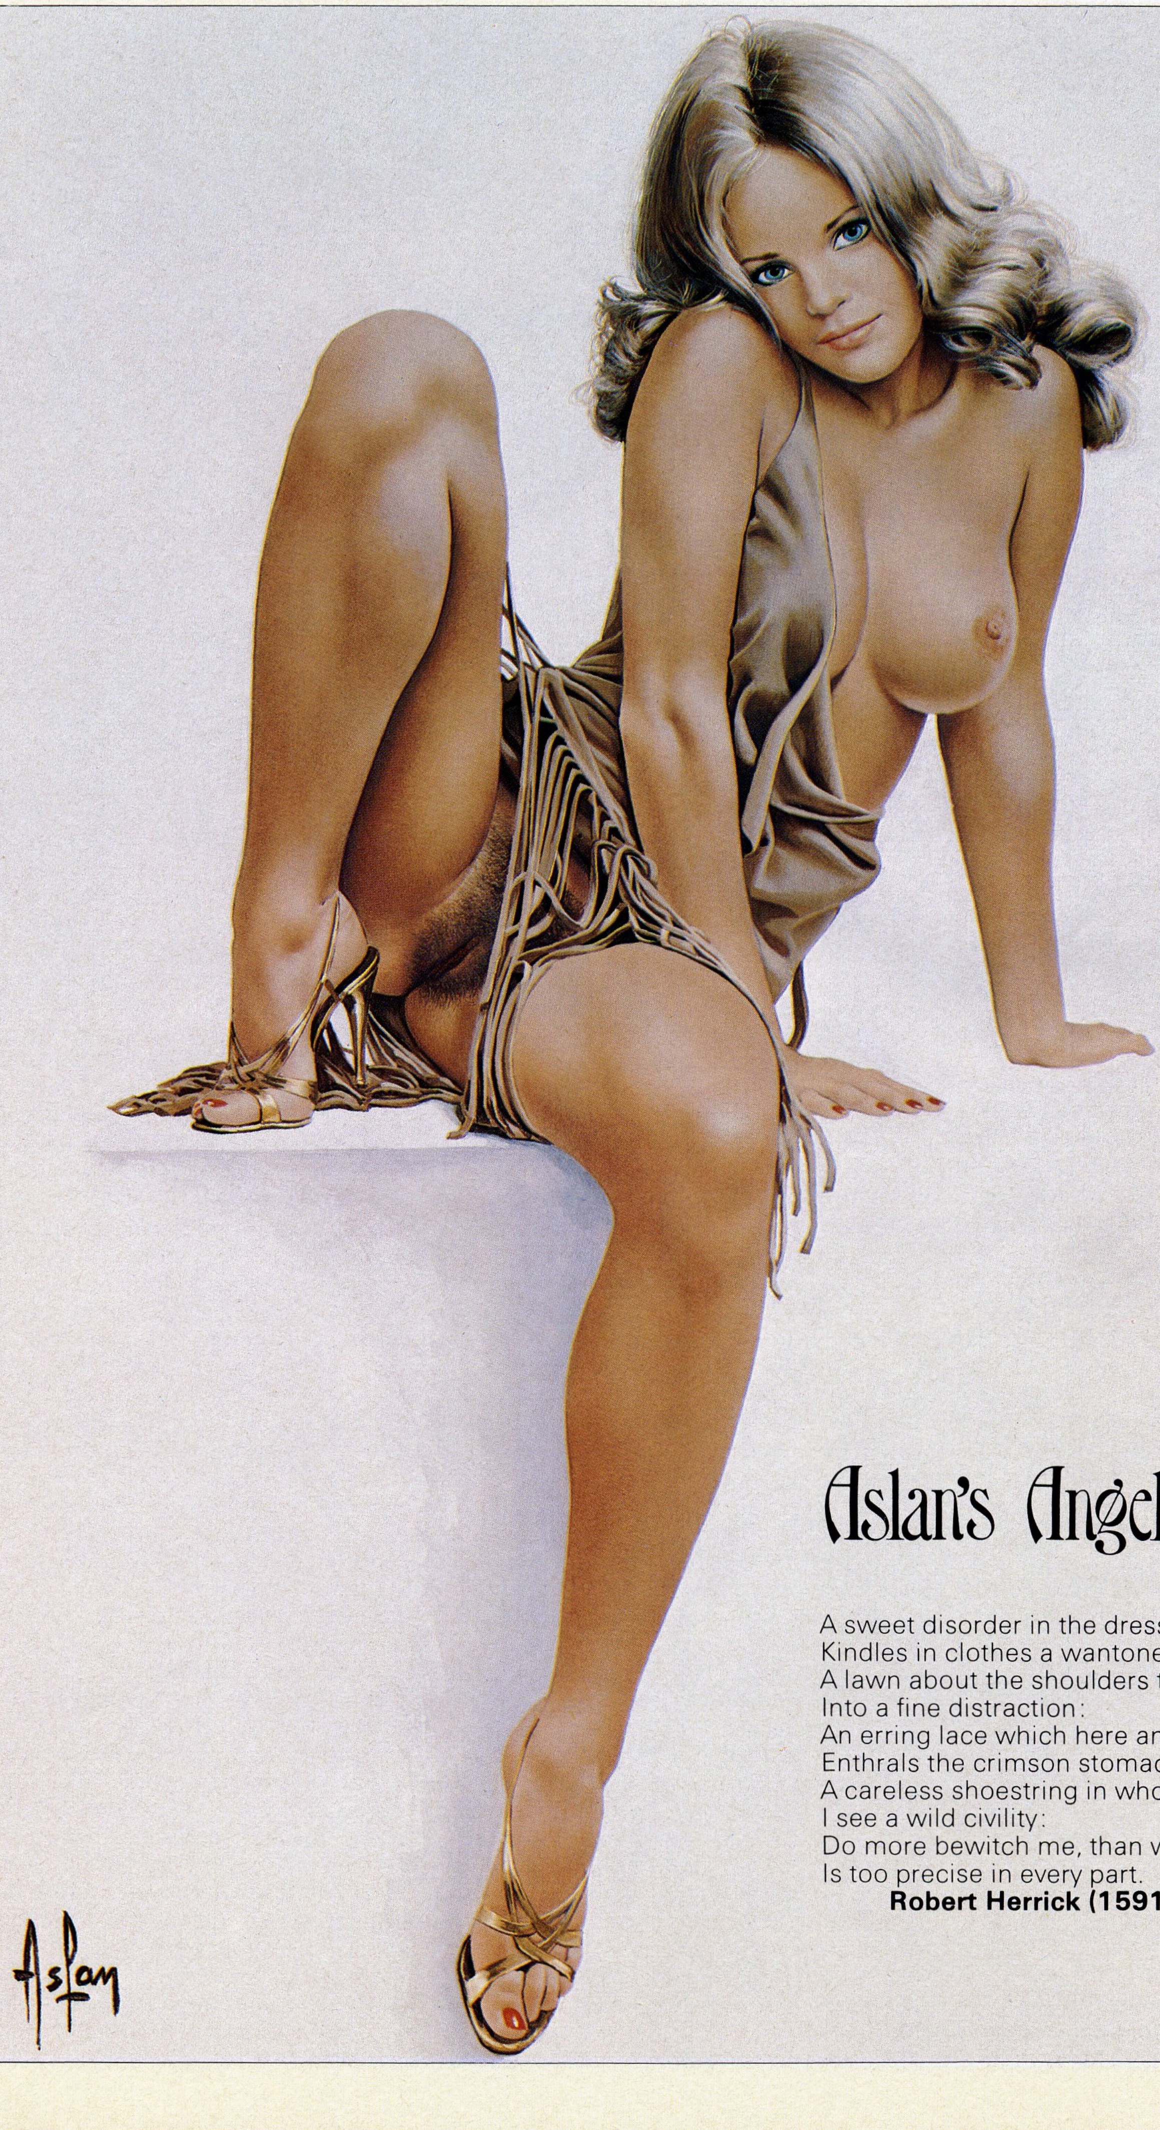
Philippa

PHOTOGRAPHED BY
PETER FLODQUIST

If you need somebody under your bonnet, probably the last person you would think of is 21-year-old Philippa Rushton. It's hard to imagine her pretty 34-23-34 figure in vast greasy overalls wrestling with a tricky cylinder, but she would probably be the best person to do it. For Philippa is a talented car mechanic, who knows her way around an engine far better than she does a sewing machine or a cooker. 'I learned it at an evening class in Leicester,' said the Market Harborough-born Miss. 'I picked the subject because I wanted to meet some new men. I met one or two, but they were frightened off when they found out that I could strip an engine quicker than they could. Rather a blow to their macho image.' But fortunately there are less sensitive men around like a previous boyfriend, and she remembers him in rather different terms. 'His mini had a really tricky clutch – it was always slipping,' she recalled with a grin.



But now and again Philippa slides out from under a car, and manages to get the grease from under her nails for a night out. 'There are over a dozen pubs in Market Harborough, and you're bound to find me in one,' she said. Her favourite tipple is brandy and soda. And her ambition? 'You know what I'd really like to do – I'd like to be an AA or RAC girl riding around on one of those big motor bikes in a smart uniform. I'd even salute people like in the old days,' she smiled. Her own personal transport is a 1964 Austin Healey Sprite which she has renovated almost entirely herself, and is currently working on respraying the body. 'When its finished it's going to be a nice metallic blue with lots of polished chrome,' she said. 'It's a good job, that I'm not shy.'



Aslan's Angels

A sweet disorder in the dress
Kindles in clothes a wantoness:
A lawn about the shoulders thrown
Into a fine distraction:
An erring lace which here and there
Enthrals the crimson stomacher:
A careless shoestring in whose tie
I see a wild civility:
Do more bewitch me, than when art
Is too precise in every part.
Robert Herrick (1591–1674)

Linda

PHOTOGRAPHED BY CHRIS NICHOLS

At one time coach travel was arduous and uncomfortable but that was before Linda Bedford took to the road. Pert-breasted, 21-year-old Linda works as a coach stewardess, and her travel firm offers all sorts of entertainment for the journey ranging from videos to cold snacks. 'It's just like an airliner,' said 34-22-33 Linda, 'right down to the uniform and chat before we start. The only thing we don't have are lifebelts under the seats.' Linda is proud of her position and tells us that it is quite a skilled job. 'Air stewardesses may get all the glamour but they should try serving tea and sandwiches swaying around at 70mph on the M6. Whats more, our drivers are as dishy as pilots, and one or two really live in the fast lane, if you get my meaning.'

Linda's home is in the Manchester suburb of Wilmslow. It's a one bedroom flat tastefully furnished with chairs and cabinets, some of them antique. 'I have inherited a lot of them from relatives,' Linda explained, 'and I'm very fond of them. I only wish I was able to be here more often.' In total contrast, Linda has to spend much of her time stopping overnight in small hotels and guest houses, but she is seldom short of company. After being on the coach all day, she longs to get out for a drink and a dance. 'I find that so invigorating,' she told us, adding, 'I think I must have been to night clubs in practically every town in the country.'

In fact, Linda is so knowledgeable about discos all over the country that she has compiled her own personal 'Good Club Guide'. She has listed towns in alphabetical order from Abergavenny to Yeovil and the entertainment they have to offer. Top marks go to London's Studio Valbonne, Millionaire's in Birmingham and Leeds' Bar Celona in Linda's book. But her passengers never suspect that their efficient stewardess probably spent the night before dancing until the early hours. Except on one occasion, when the guy she'd been dancing the slow numbers with turned up as a passenger the next day. 'He told me where he was going,' joked Linda. 'But I knew where he'd been!'

Stephanie

PHOTOGRAPHED BY JOHN ALLUM

We always know when one of our models has struck a particular chord amongst our readers because month after month the letters keep coming in asking for another set of pictures. Twenty-three-year-old Stephanie Wiggins is such a girl, and P L of Chelsea summed up many readers' comments when he said: 'She has that look in her eye which is cheeky and alluring at the same time, a sort of smouldering sex appeal, both an invitation and a challenge. She also has a fantastic figure, and her bottom is just out of this world.'

Stephanie made her Mayfair debut in Vol 17 No 7 when her full 34-23-35 figure was featured in the centrespread. She hadn't been modelling for very long, and, surprisingly, didn't think she was good enough to appear in the magazine. Think again, Stephanie, because we've got a huge pile of letters which say otherwise. Apparently Stephanie's father was a keen Mayfair reader, and she'd always had an ambition to appear. Regular readers will also have spotted Stephanie modelling our special range of lingerie to its full advantage every month. So, in answer to all your requests, here is sensuous Stephanie once again in her full glory.

To look at Stephanie you would never think that she has been a champion encyclopaedia saleswoman, but that's exactly what she was. She used to manage a sports shop owned by her father in Bristol, but decided that she wanted to see the world. Then an ad appeared in the local paper asking for someone who was young and ambitious. Stephanie answered, and found herself selling encyclopaedias to British forces in Germany. She did so well she was put in charge of four other sellers, and even won a holiday in Bermuda. Since her return to England, Stephanie has lived in Leeds, and become a successful model.
